

Board of Directors Nominees for 2025

Greg Chandler Burns

Greg, while trained as an engineer, has worked in a variety of roles with various Mennonite organizations. Greg has experience in IT, Health and Safety and Policy Development. Greg has also extensive experience in Financial Accounting with non-profits and social services and is willing to serve SLMC in this capacity.

Dan Good

Dan has a long history with SLMC as a camper, counsellor and as assistant director. He sees where community support, love and inclusion in SLMC has been a healing place for many. Dan brings with him experience working in the mental health field.

Emily Martin

Emily is well connected to the constituency and has served as staff member at SLMC where she was known as a strong team member with unique insight. Emily works in the field of First Nations consulting including the Saugeen Ojibway Nation.

Kevin Martin

A lifetime connection to SLMC has formed Kevin as a person deeply committed to caring for our natural environment. Kevin carried this orientation to his work life choices to build a technology company committed to energy savings. As a CEO he has extensive legal, HR, and governance matters experience to bring to the Board table of SLMC.

Chris Steingart

Chris Steingart is the owner of a professional web design business and has used his gifts and his expertise to support many local churches, camps, schools and Mennonite organizations. He has board experience both at SLMC and at other Mennonite Agencies in our community. He is committed to sharing stories and successes and has been a committed volunteer at the Sports Camp and beyond.
